Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Annals and Magazine of Natural History, Vol. 17: Including Zoology, Botany, and Geology; Being a Continuation of the Magazine of Botany and Zoology, and of Loudon and Charlesworth s Magazine of Natural History In the autumn of 1842 I obtained in a salt-marsh about three miles to the west of Skibbereen, county Cork, a small Eolidiform Nudibranch, which on examination appeared to possess characters entitling it to the construction of a new genus for its reception. It existed in great numbers in the salt-marsh, which was never, except at the very highest spring tides, flooded by the sea. The day was bright and warm when I met with this curious little animal. Many had crept quite out of the water and were crawling over the moist fronds of Enteromorpha intestinalis, and seemed to delight in exposing their slimy bodies to the influence of the warm autumnal sun. Others swarmed on the mud in the little shallow pools of the marsh, where their ova were abundantly deposited in the usual gelatinous masses characteristic of the eggs of the Nudibranchiate Gasteropods, a fact which is of itself sufficient to prove that this strange semi-marine and even semi-aqueous habitat was quite natural to our little Nudibranch.
